EQUINE HERPESVIRAL DISEASE

*A pre-meeting Symposium cosponsored by the AAEP
And
the Charles Louis Davis DVM Foundation*

Come join us for an eight-hour seminar on the identification, epidemiology, pathogenesis, and treatment of equine herpesviral disease on the day before the start of the annual AAEP meeting in Orlando FL! The day's topics will include a review of the Findlay outbreak and its impact on the horse industry, latest methods of EHV diagnosis, common lesions and their pathophysiology, the role of immunity in disease progression, and current concepts in treatment and prevention, as well as existing controversies surrounding this important disease. The workshop will close with a panel discussion with audience participation.

The renowned faculty includes clinicians, a pathologist, an immunologist/vaccinologist, and a virologist with extensive expertise in the diagnosis and treatment of EHV disease.
