Teaching Fellow / Senior Teaching Fellow in Equine Medicine (Maternity Cover) ACAD103228

Bristol Veterinary School

£42,418 - £47,722 (Grade K) / £50,618 - £56,950 (Grade L) per annum

Do you want to be part of educating the next generation of vets and vet nurses? Are you ready to join a busy equine team within a world class university veterinary school?

The University of Bristol's Veterinary School is seeking to recruit an experienced equine medicine clinician with energy, commitment and a passion for scholarship and teaching to cover a period of maternity leave. Experience of, and enthusiasm, for teaching is essential to the role. You must hold a Veterinary Degree recognised by the RCVS that allows you to practise veterinary medicine within the UK.

This is primarily a teaching role, delivering and leading the practical and didactic clinical teaching of undergraduate veterinary and veterinary nursing students, and the supervision of clinical postgraduate students. You will also participate in the delivery of a high quality clinical service in Equine medicine within Bristol's Langford Vets' Equine Hospital.

You will be appointed at either Teaching Fellow level (£42,418 - £47,722 per annum) or Senior Teaching Fellow level (£50,618 - £56,950 per annum) and will additionally be paid veterinary and 'on-clinics' allowances.

If you are interested in this opportunity or would like to apply, please direct informal queries to David Barrett, david.barrett@bristol.ac.uk or Sarah Smith (Clinical Lead for Equine Medicine, Langford Vets), sarah.smith@bristol.ac.uk

Interviews will take place on Wednesday 9th May 2018.

The University is committed to creating and sustaining a fully inclusive culture. We welcome applicants from all backgrounds and communities.

To apply please visit our web site at www.bris.ac.uk/jobs enter the vacancy number into the job search and follow the link to the on line application process.

The closing date for applications is 23:59 on 24 April 2018.
